

Characters

The characters are the stars of the story. There are lots of different kinds of characters. Readers usually like some characters and dislike others.

Great readers notice what the characters say and how they act. This helps them to know what kind of character they are.

