

Questions:

Right there or In the text

The answer to some questions is right there in the words or pictures. It is in the text and the reader will see it if they look carefully. This means the reader does not need to work out the answer on their own.

